VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1867. NO. 54.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

RADICAL COUP D'ETAT.

It is currently talked of among intelligent men here, and believed, that the advent of Congress will be preceded by the collection here of 25,000 "volunteers," black and white, (part of the "Grand Army of the Republic.") The purpose is to enforce the usurpations of that body of lawless men at the point of the bayonet. The ridiculous charge of an intended emeute on the part of the President was intended to cover this infamous design.—Washington Letter Baltimore Gazette.

The Radical leaders now here are boasting confidentially among their friends of the completeness of their plans for the future. They say General Butler has already prepared a joint resolution declaring that any officers against whom articles of impeachment shall be preferred shall be suspended from office during trial upon the charges preferred. Immediately following the passing of this resolution articles of impeachment will be rushed through the House under a call for the previous question, and Mr. Wade will be sworn into office as acting President of the United States.

Your correspondent inquired of one of these gentlemen how they proposed securing to Mr. Wade the presidential chair after he had been sworn in at the capitol? On that point he said there was some doubt, as General Grant had given them no assurance as to which of the two Presidents he would recognize; but in the event of a refusal on his part to espouse their cause, they had the militia of the Northern States to fall back upon, as well as their own powerful organization, the Grand Army of the Republic, a large portion of which will be found in Washington. I suggested that the success of the Conservatives in the fall elections would probably cause a change in their programme. He replied: "No; it will only necessitate the greater firmness and quicker action." He also remarked that it was believed Mr. Johnson would resist; but that the little power of resistance which had been left him by Congress would not be difficult to overcome. Such is the desperate programme of the Revolutionists, and I have a positive assurance from those who know that it will be strictly carried out.—Washington Correspondence Boston Post, Oct. 2nd.

SOMETHING TO THE POINT.

Ex Governor Seymour, of New York, was chosen President of the Democratic Convention just met in Albany. In his speech on taking the chair he said some things that are exactly to the point of the present political condition of this country. The argument of the brief extract we copy from this forcible address is: "They that take the sword shall perish by the sword:"

"We cannot, if we would, escape from confronting the problems of the day.—Neither safety, honor, nor patriotism will suffer us to stand dumb and inactive in the dark hour of danger. We have put down the rebellion; we are struggling with revolution. The first was sectional; the last is universal. The first sought to divide our country; the last threatens to destroy it. Mr. Seymour alluded to the charges against the President and to charges made against each other by members of the House of Representatives. Even the Senate has pursued a policy revolutionary in its tendency, and in its blindness is striking suicidal blows at its own existence. Colorado, which today balances four millions of people in New York, was admitted merely to gain two votes in the struggle with the Executive. But a bolder act is in view. Twenty Senators are to be admitted from the ten States lately in rebellion, not as the representatives of white people, nor of blacks, but because they hold views in harmony with the majority of the senators, and are sent to Washington by their agents. If this revolution is begun, it must go on to its logical, just end. It must not roll on the necks of the majority of the American people and stop there; but numbers must be represented, not in rotten boroughs and sham States. We implore senators not to begin this revolution. Be content with your vast powers. Your organization is at war with impartial suffrage and impartial representation. If you continue your usurpations the country may not be content with drawing you back within constitutional limits. It may go further, and, acting upon the doctrines you assert, it may crush you out, and make another Senate, based in truth upon manhood suffrage.

"The country needs peace; but if you will have revolution, it cannot stop at any chalk lines you may mark out. New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, and Michigan, a majority of the people of all of which are now virtually disfranchised in your body—for they are controlled by the representatives of a quarter of our population—if our Government is to be respected, will have their full rights."

THE LATEST MURDER BY BROWNLOW'S MILITIA IN TENNESSEE.

We have already given a brief account of this said affair, which was received by telegraph, and in which the name of the victim was erroneously given as Hart, instead of Hartmus. The Nashville Banner, of the 24th, contains the following additional particulars:

"Intelligence reached the city yesterday evening of an affair at Jackson, the details of which may justly excite the indignation of every honest and law-abiding man, no matter to what party he may belong, throughout the State. Our information comes from one of the responsible citizens of West Tennessee, and may be strictly relied on as to the main facts stated.

At Jackson are stationed two companies of militia. For several days, under the pretence that the "rebels" meditated an attack, they have been engaged in taking arms from the people of that town and vicinity. They have not hesitated to enter and search houses, insult women, and pilfer whatever came within their reach, besides committing a series of other outrages, which we have neither time nor space at present to mention. All this was done in the name of law and order by the legalized military custodians of the peace of Tennessee.

Last Wednesday a corporal, in charge of a squad of militia, stopped on the street Major Thomas H. Hartmus, a member of General Bates's staff during the war, and demanded to know whether he had a pistol. Major Hartmus replied that he had, took his weapon from his pocket and handed it to the corporal, remarking, however, that he considered such conduct on the part of the militia a usurpation, and that he surrendered the pistol under protest.—This was said in the quiet, unimpassioned tone peculiar to Major Hartmus, and no further words passed. Without any warning whatever, and almost before Major H. had ceased speaking, the militiaman raised his gun, took deliberate aim, and shot him through the breast. As soon as the murder became generally known, which was but a few moments after its perpetration, the wildest excitement prevailed throughout the town. The people had borne with some degree of patience the indignities and insults of many months, but this last crowning outrage seemed to dissipate all hope of deliverance. A meeting was called in the court-house, and messengers despatched to the country with the announcement that nothing now remained but a resort to the natural law of self-defence. Arms were brought out from their hiding places, and all the preparations began which generally precede a bloody struggle. Armed men commenced to arrive from all parts of the county, and had it not been for the counsels and interference of the older and wiser portion of the community, the militia would have fared but illy. A feeling of desperation was abroad. No man knew when his life would be taken by these legalized ruffians, and all felt that decisive action, no matter what might be the odds, could not be too soon taken.

In the meantime the militia were aware of what was going on, and made preparations to stand on the defensive. While the bitterness on both sides was hourly growing more bitter, and a sanguinary collision seemed almost inevitable, a detachment of United States troops, which had been sent for, arrived from Humboldt. The commanding officer at once took steps suited to the emergency, and dispersed the citizens. As soon as these troops arrived a dispatch was sent from the militia camp for the negro company stationed at Trenton, to proceed at once to Jackson. With the coward ice of the conscience stricken, the militia feared that an attack was to be made on them by the regulars. Fortunately, there was no further disturbance, and up to a late hour yesterday evening all was quiet at Jackson.

At last accounts Major Hartmus' wound was considered mortal, with hardly a possibility that he could survive many hours.—All who know and love him—and they are scattered throughout the length and breadth of the State—will receive with deep sorrow the particulars of the tragedy by which he met his fate. No soldier of the Confederacy made a more brilliant record. Since the close of the war he has practiced law in Jackson, his native town, and has exercised a commanding and beneficial influence in that section of the country. He is amiable, almost to a fault; and the last man in the world who would provoke or force a quarrel.

We did not learn whether the perpetrators of the murder had been arrested. Judge Bond, who is now holding the Circuit Court at Jackson, declared, however, that the guilty parties should be taken, "dead or alive."

General Cooper states that all the information he has received about the affair was contained in a brief telegram, received Thursday night, to the effect that two of the militia had shot a man, and that an attack from the citizens was apprehended."

New Features and Advantages Which are Known as Belonging to no Other Company in the United States:

THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS COMPANY IS upon the Mutual Benefit System—the accumulated profits going to the assured.

This company makes a special deposit with the Insurance Department of the State, for which Registered policies are issued if desired, countersigned by the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York, certifying that such policies are secured by pledge of public stocks.

No other Company gives the assured a guarantee of this character or anything equivalent.

Thirty days' of grace are allowed on all renewed premiums, and the policy remains valid and in full force during that time.

No restrictions as to travel or residence abroad at any season of the year, outside the tropics, which gives a nearly world-wide and unconditional policy.

No higher rate of premium charged for stationary Engineers, Conductors, Baggage Masters, Mail Agents, nor in consequence of change of employment after the policy is issued.

Notes are not required by this Company, but a loan may be obtained on the policy for one third of the annual premium, which is cancelled by the profits applied as dividends.

Joint policies, including man and wife, are issued by this Company, and the amount insured is payable to the survivor on the death of either.

"ÆTNA"

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

ASSETS $7,000,000.

THIS COMPANY ISSUES TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING ENDOWMENT POLICIES, contracting to pay the amount insured at death or the specified time.

An endowment policy presents the double attraction of providing for one's family or other dependents, in case he should be cut off before a specified age, or of securing to himself independence, in case he attains the age. Thus insuring for ten years, a note for one half of the cost will be taken by paying six per cent interest.

This plan gives, in addition to all the advantages of life insurance, a safe and convenient INVESTMENT for one's savings, till they have accumulated to a definite amount; which he receives in one sum at the specified time.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1867.

THE RAILROADS, AGAIN.

We believe that we have never before heard of so much complaint and dissatisfaction expressed with the running of the trains, as we have since the present schedule was announced. Matters seem to be in a tangle, and we have no hope of any better state of things, until the policy which was inaugurated at the last meeting of the stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad, at Greensboro', is abandoned.

When we saw the resolution adopted by the stockholders at that meeting, indicating a purpose to protect and foster the interests of those Roads especially in which the State was a stockholder, without regard to the public interests of travel or trade, we were sure it would result in damage, not only to those Railroads, in which the State was most largely interested, but in certain disadvantage to the travelling public.

The Wilmington Journal, a few weeks since, mentioned with much gratification the improved condition of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and its increase of travel and freight for the month of August, under the new policy. We then thought of asking it some questions, the answers to which would have better enabled the public to judge whether the new policy was really better for the interests of the State or people, but we forebore, simply because we did not intend to involve ourselves in a controversy which might possibly be construed into a partiality for one Road over another. But since the general interests of the State and people are becoming more seriously involved in this matter, we are no longer restrained from asking those questions.

We have not the resolution of the stockholders at hand, alluded to above, but, as well as we recollect, it purported to be a movement to foster, especially, the interests of the North Carolina Road, the Atlantic Road, and the Wilmington and Weldon Road, and thus promote the interests of Wilmington, Newbern and Morehead City. The purpose, we saw, was a patriotic and proper one, but we saw, at the same time, that it could not be effected, without a violation of the great laws of trade and travel, which all experience and observation prove are insurmountable, and that the attempt would end in failure and disappointment.—It has been shown that the Wilmington and Weldon Road had increased its travel and freight $7,000 over its freight and travel for the corresponding month of last year. But we ask, how did it affect the travel and freight of the North Carolina Road?—Were the travel and freight of the North Carolina Road increased in the same proportion? Did it increase the travel and freight of the North Carolina and Atlantic Road? Did the new policy help the trade of Wilmington, Newbern or Morehead City, in the same proportion? We ask those who know, to answer these questions. We learned, while in Norfolk, that the trade of that city was much greater in August, than in the corresponding month of last year, but how was it with Newbern, and Morehead City, and Wilmington, and Petersburg, and Richmond?

We learn that, at the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Railroad, a resolution was offered to carry out the new policy indicated by the Stockholders. It was fully discussed, and finally the question was laid on the table. In a short time, we learn, the policy was inaugurated notwithstanding, by the joint arrangement of the Superintendents of the North Carolina and the Wilmington and Weldon Railroads,—other parties, perhaps, concurring. Every one, who saw through the plan, was satisfied at once, that it would enure to the benefit of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, but they were doubtful about its benefiting any other interest. A friend of ours, and of the Wilmington Road, chuckled over the superior management of that Road, which was apparent to every one.—The last change in the schedule of the North Carolina Road, we learn, was effected without even the knowledge of the President, whose duties required his presence in New York. No one likes the present arrangement, so far as we can learn. The detention of passengers in this City, or in Goldsboro' en route for Charlotte, is a serious inconvenience, and must produce a change of route with persons travelling North and South.

It does appear to us to be perfectly demonstrable, that the interests of all our Railroads can only be permanently promoted, by using every effort on their part to accommodate the travelling public, by a quick and safe transportation of the mails and of all freight, leaving entirely to the option of travellers and shippers of freight the unrestrained choice of routes and the choice of markets. The great routes of travel, North and South, must be unobstructed by unnecessary delays or detentions, or by excessive tariffs. The schedules on the great routes from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Petersburg and Norfolk, should regulate the schedules of the North Carolina Roads, and those of the Roads in the South. In order to avoid unnecessary expense, the mail trains might not only carry the mails and passengers, but several cars of through freight, while the freight trains, running slower, should afford accommodation to way travellers and way freight, at lower rates. But in every instance, close connections should be formed throughout, breaking up that miserable policy, practiced more on North Carolina Roads than any others in the country, of stopping ten, twenty or thirty minutes, or longer, at every depot or watering-station. When a man gets on a Railroad, his watchword is forward, and it is to the interest of no one, that we can see, to be detained unnecessarily at a station or depot.

"We now witness, through a mistaken policy, the great States of the South fastened in the clamps of partisan folly. This cannot long be so. We need their products and all their best industries, and all their implements, and all their co-operative energies, to unfold the national destiny."—Nat. Intel.

Viewed in the light of sane policy, independently of the considerations of fairness, justice and generosity, the course of treatment that has been pursued towards the Southern States is inexplicable, except upon the ground of absolute party dementia. The national debt is enormous, and the burdens of taxation, which are weighing down the energies of the people, North and South, are barely sufficient to meet the accruing interest. The incubus is so galling as to have awakened, at the North, the spirit of Repudiation,—a sleeping lion which, once aroused, it will be difficult to tame down. Such intense and disinterested patriots as Butler, even, have taken hold of the issue,—or what is tantamount to it,—and will press it upon Congress at the next session. A novel spectacle is now presented. Nowhere in the South is heard the cry of repudiation. Subjected to all the charges and burdens of government, but denied all participation in its benefits and privileges,—taxed without being represented,—compelled to lose the honest debts due by their States to themselves,—we hear no disposition among our people to evade the payment of the cost of their humiliation; while it is reserved for the "loyal" to ignore the national obligations incurred in carrying on "the war for the Union!!

Unfetter the limbs of the Southern States and people,—remove the crushing weights which are prostrating enterprize and industry,—give them an opportunity to repair their fortunes and develope their resources,—and there will be no apology for resorting to doubtful or discreditable expedients to shirk the responsibilities of the nation.—The effect of relieving them from their disabilities, and of a kind, conciliatory and fostering policy towards them, would be instantaneous and marvellous upon the financial prosperity of the whole country.—These States,—and none of them more than North Carolina,—have within themselves all the elements of national wealth, industrial welfare and commercial greatness.—Their people have the strongest stimulus, under ordinary circumstances, to exertion, viz.: necessity; though there are periods, in the history of nations, as well as individuals, when necessity, instead of producing effort, only begets recklessness and despair. When the Radical policy shall have been consummated,—if it ever shall be, and as we pray it never may be,—that point will have been reached. Under the blighting influence of negro domination,—real or imminent confiscation,—loss of interest in the weal of the nation, as the result of political disability and civil ostracism,—industry will languish and die, and the tide of population, instead of flowing into our borders, will flow out. The South will become to the Federal government, what Ireland is to England,—an expense, rather than a source of revenue and support. Reverse the treatment, and the picture is reversed. The country will yet find this out.

RAIL ROAD TO WASHINGTON.—The Washington Index calls upon us to advocate the building of a Rail Road from Washington to Goldsboro. The Goldsboro Star approves of the project, and the Tarboro Southerner favors the road from Washington to Tarboro. We should be glad to see Washington rebuilt and restored to more than its former prosperity. The object of building a Road from Washington to any point, we presume, would be to draw trade to Washington. The Washington people could have no other object. If so, what advantage in that respect would a Road to Goldsboro be? It would place Washington directly in competition with Newbern and Wilmington, and would more likely draw the trade from Washington than contribute much to it. So, on the other hand, if the Road from Tarboro to the Roanoke is completed, a Road from Washington to Tarboro would bring Washington in competition with Norfolk, and thus such a Road could not sustain itself.

A better policy, it strikes us, would be to clean out Tar River of all obstructions, as far as possible; which could be done at a reasonable cost. Do not undertake too much, but form a Company to keep the river open as far up as practicable, and give the Company the right of navigation for a term of years. Then if a Rail Road is to be built, let it run from Greenville to Wilson. Where a river can be made navigable for flats and steamers of any power, it is far cheaper to use the river, unless the amount of freight is likely to be sufficient to employ both. Washington is in a position to derive far more advantage from the improvement of its natural advantages, than from any artificial ones. Rail Roads are really easier built, than to make them pay, after they are built. It would be well for our people to consider this, before they project more Rail Roads.

WINDY BILLY.—A correspondent at Lexington informs us, that the Grand Jury at Davidson Court found a true bill against W. F. Henderson for stealing a mule, instead of a horse, and also for perjury. We take no pleasure in such announcements, but facts ought not to be concealed from the public, whether men occupy distinguished positions, either in the Republican or Radical party or among Conservatives. Let truth and justice be done to every man, without distinction of color!

TRINITY COLLEGE.—We were glad to see Rev. Dr. Craven in our sanctum, on yesterday. He says that there are about ninety students at Trinity. He thinks they evince an unwonted devotion to study. The institution has been visited recently by an outpouring of the Spirit, and most of the students are professors of Religion. In the Theological department, Rev. Dr. Doub has sixteen students.

STATE NEWS.

——The Asheville News and Farmer mentions the arrival, in that town, of a family of Swiss Emigrants, who were induced to go to Buncombe by a wealthy and intelligent gentleman from Switzerland, who has been sojourning in the mountains. The News says:

"These emigrants are of the right sort. They are not picked up promiscuously, but come among us endorsed as intelligent and respectable farmers, and by a proper encouragement from our people may be made to form a nucleus around which thousands of similar people would undoubtedly gather in a very short time. Even now thirty other families are awaiting the report of those now here, and if that report is favorable, a tide of immigration will set in towards this section that will soon drive out our present unreliable and ignorant labor, and replace it with an intelligent and industrious people, who will help build our Railroads, our commercial interests, and make our mountains blossom as the rose."

——Gen. Canby has removed Messrs. J. R. Logan, James Roberts and J. D. Gladson, Justices of Cleveland County Court, and appointed the following named persons in their stead, who are required to take the "iron-clad," viz: P. D. Gregg, Jno. J. Aydlette and Louis Gardner. No reason is assigned.

Gen. Canby has also extended the time for the collection and payment of taxes in Cleveland, until Dec. 1st. The Sheriff, however, has already settled with the Public Treasurer.

——The Goldsboro Star says that the subscription to the proposed cotton factory in that place is progressing finely, and that it will be built.

——Mr. John Wilkes having resigned the Presidency of the First National Bank of Charlotte, R. Y. McAden, Esq., of Alamance county, has been elected in his place, and will remove to that city and take charge of the Bank. Mr. Miles P. Pegram has been elected Cashier in place of Thos. W. Dewey, Esq., resigned.

——The Constitutional Union Men of Buncombe County will hold a Convention at Asheville, on Saturday, the 12th of October, for the purpose of organizing the party, and nominating a candidate to represent them in the State Convention.

——Messrs. Sloan & Co., of Gaston County, have imported machinery for their gold mines all the way from California.

WASHINGTON, N. C.—The Conservative says that a number of neat new houses have been built in Washington and others are in process of erection. We gather from it and the Index the following additional items from the goodly old town:

"Our Presbyterian friends seem to hang fire on their beautiful new structure. We used to stroll around afternoons to see how it progressed: It is now just in the condition of an old ruin—arches and no walls above them. Hurry up, friends, we want to hear your bell ring. By the way, what are our Episcopal and Methodist brethren doing?"

"The great inconvenience to which families are placed by servants, necessarily will compel housekeepers to look North for white servants. It is most unfortunate that the negro, in his uneducated state, is not disposed to listen to reason. Persons, in consequence, are subjected to their perplexing annoyances. Good servants are very few and far between. Whenever they are found honest and industrious, and there are some very honorable exceptions, no difficulty of steady employ is met."

"The first bale of new cotton of the season, grown by Gen. Byron Ladlo, of Pitt, reached our market last week."

"The present anomalous state of the country prevents anything like new enterprises in the marine line. This state of things, we have been fully assured, is not confined to our section. North, as well as South, an extreme barrenness of work rests, like a funeral pall, on ship yards. Workmen, as in our own town, are disengaged, or applying themselves in some other than their legitimate calling for a livelihood. How long this condition of things will last, remains for our present rulers to determine."

THE ELECTION IN ALABAMA.—We learn from Crawford that about nine hundred negroes voted on the first day; but it was supposed that there were several hundred on the ground on Tuesday night who had not voted. Very few, if any, whites had participated in the election.

It is a fortunate thing that the whites did not go into a contest with the excitement and evident preparation for a violent conflict manifested by the blacks. Many of the negroes carried their guns with them to the court house, and the military had to disarm them. They had been wrought up by white emissaries to the conviction that they were going to have a battle with the whites, and the display of a similar spirit by the latter must have brought on a conflict.

It is said that the negroes had received orders, which they dared not disobey, to go to Crawford and vote.—Columbus Enquirer.

MEMORIAL CEREMONIES.—On Thursday, 26th ult., a number of the ladies and gentlemen of Romney, West Virginia, assembled to do the appropriate honors of inaugurating a monument to the Confederate soldiers who fell in the Southern service during the late war. Addresses were delivered by Jas. D. Armstrong, Esq., Major Alexander Monroe, and Rev. O. B. Fitzpatrick. The procession, which was a large one, was under the marshalship of the gallant Lieutenant-Colonel D. Ed. Beall, late of the Confederate service.

It is now stated that although Chief Justice Chase may open the court at Richmond in which Mr. Davis is to be tried, he cannot preside for any length of time, as the Supreme Court opens soon after in Washington. If then a desire is evinced to postpone the trial, counsel for the Government will enter a nolle prosequi.

The Richmond Whig learns from the United States paymaster of the Richmond district that the Government pays the troops in and around the city of Richmond $125,000 per month, making a million and a half dollars per annum. This, added to the amount expended in the Commissary, Quartermaster's and Subsistence Departments, makes the amount approximate, in the aggregate, $5,000,000!

The next National Republican Convention, for the nomination of a President and Vice-President, will be held at Chicago.—The members of the national executive committees have been corresponding on the subject, and a majority have expressed themselves in favor of Chicago.

The Tennessee Legislature met on last Monday. A dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial says that it seems to be conceded that Governor Brownlow will be elected to the United States Senate, in place of Patterson, whose time expires on March 4th.

For the Sentinel.

THE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM.

In all the articles about the University and its affairs recently given to the public in the Sentinel, I have looked, in vain, for anything like a definition of the University system. There seems to be quite a furor in its behalf, certainly there has been a loud outcry in favor of it, and yet I cannot find that any of its advocates have told us what it is. This "system" is brought forward as a new idea. Its friends claim that it is the grand remedy for all the ills of the schemes of higher education, that we have thus far relied on, that it is to make good all past short-comings in that regard, and to set forward the coming generations on a new career of far more successful learning; and yet they hardly give us a clue to what they mean by that "system." If the general methods of instruction in our Colleges are to be changed, we ought to be informed what the principles are on which the change is to be made. We are, by no means, disposed to act blindfold in this matter, nor to commit the future education of the sons of North Carolina to a "system" which we do not understand, and which its advocates do not seem to be able or willing to explain.—If we are to approve and sustain this change, we insist on being clearly informed what its elements are and wherein its singular superiority consists. I have observed, however, that "the University system" is in full and most successful operation at two of the Colleges in this State. Their friends do not, indeed, call them "Universities," as one would think they might; they only declare them to be re organized on the "University system."—Now, surely, we ought to be informed what this "system" is. And yet the only gleam of light that has been thrown upon this question, and this is gathered from the statement of the worthy President of Trinity, is that they have introduced there a principle of election. By this it is understood—if wrongly, will not some one who knows set us right?—that a student may join any class he pleases, (and of course is fitted for;) that he may select what course of study he will pursue, and may continue in it so long as he pleases. One may, for example, devote himself to classical studies only, another may give himself to the natural sciences exclusively, a third may study nothing but the English branches, and so on. One may keep up his connexion with the College for four years, another may remain one year, a third a single session.—The peculiarity of this "system," as thus far developed, seems to be that nothing is required of any student—unless it be for a degree—and that he may study what he chooses, and when he chooses, and so far only as he chooses; the only limit to his selection being in the capacity of the Institution to teach, as no one among us professes to be able to give instruction in everything.

There is no doubt, something quite captivating to our people just now in such a "system," and it can be upheld with reasonings that are at the least very plausible.—And yet I am not entirely convinced that the old way is not the better, and may have something to say on that subject hereafter. A change so fundamental and of so vast influence on the future character of our education ought not to be countenanced, unless after a diligent sifting of its merits, much less to be rushed upon us in a furor for doing something new and in the too prevalent take-for-granted temper. It is not too late to discuss this subject, even though this method has been already put in operation in so highly respectable quarters. We may be going too fast. Let those who are not yet committed deliberate long and well before they take a step that can not be easily retraced, or of whose wisdom they are not fully assured. More touching this matter hereafter, perhaps. I would ask another question now.

Is this the much vaunted "University system"? Has, indeed, our grand error been our not giving to our youth a liberty to choose what, and when, and how much they will learn? And is the granting them this liberty the magic condition that is to infuse a new spirit into our schools and colleges, and to make our boys hereafter true scholars? If so, let me ask with all deference, is it so new a thing among us? Have we not all along acted on this "system," at any rate in our Common Schools and Academies,—yea, some of our Colleges also, in, as it may be, a sublime or stupid ignorance of the fact? Take the Common Schools of our State, any of them, and any where, and their practice is and always has been to allow their pupils to select each one the branches of study he would pursue.—There has nowhere been an exclusive scheme which all were required to follow. One mighty study arithmetic only, and another geography, and another grammar, and so on, just as each might choose. Each pupil, too, enters the school when it suits his convenience, and consults the same only in deciding when to leave it. Here "the elective system" is in full operation. Are they therefore Universities—even in miniature? And will our Colleges, if they imitate in this respect our "old-field schools," be transformed into Universities thereby?

What has been said of our Common Schools may be said as truly of the most of our Academies. The same principle of "election" prevails in them also. And yet our people would be amazed to be told that the true "University System" is the system on which they are modeled. Indeed, if this rule of "election" is the distinctive mark of a University, our own University, about which we hear so much grumbling, has a just title to that name. For this rule has been acted on there for many years. Any young man who wishes, may attend the lectures and recitations in one or more departments, which he may choose, with no obligation of any kind to take the rest. One may learn Chemistry only, or Mathematics, or the Classics, and leave out the residue of the course. So, he may connect himself with whatever class he pleases, and may continue his residence just so long as he pleases. Within the range of his choice he may enjoy every advantage which the Institution can give as fully as any other student. How long such has been the fact I cannot say; but am sure that for more than ten years past every annual catalogue has contained a list of the young men who are thus pursuing a partial course of study. If the allowance of an "election" is the peculiar feature of the University System, surely this system is already, and has long been, as fully in operation at Chapel Hill, as it is now at Trinity or Wake Forest. It is possible that this "system" may need to be enlarged there, or made more flexible, or more prominent, or to be more encouraged; but certainly it does not need to be introduced. Every Chapel Hill student can testify that this "election" is always granted to those who ask for it, and that there are every year more or fewer who do act upon it.

But, after all, is this "elective" principle "the University System?" It may be a part of the method of a University, but I cannot believe that it is the method. There must be something else, and far more important than this, in the idea of a University. It must be something else than this that gives to an University, properly so-called, its superior force and higher dignity. As the mind of our people seems to be somewhat agitated on this subject, it is very desirable that those who understand what "the University System" is, would give us the information that we need.

Freer, Neal & Co., Cotton Factors and General Commission Merchants, Norfolk, Va. John White, Esq., formerly of Warrenton, is associated with this Firm, and, it is understood, will reside in Liverpool.—Such a firm needs no endorsement, but the list of references is unsurpassed.

The Berliner Malt Extract: Phil. Thiem, Sole Agent for N. C. This Extract, we judge, from the testimonials, is a wonderful tonic and invigorator,—particularly for nursing mothers, invalid females, and convalescents generally. It is the purpose of Mr. Thiem to place some of it in the hands of our City Physicians, with a view to trial in their practice,—in the assurance that they will recommend it, as it has been universally recommended by the Profession in Europe and at the North.

Hanz & Michel's Celebrated Lager Beer, Bremen: Phil. Thiem, Sole Agent for America. This is a genuine imported article, and is said to be superior to anything in the line ever introduced into this country.

N. C. Roe and Cut Herrings, on consignment: Jenkins & Perry, Fayetteville Street.

See the advertisement of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Co. relative to the transportation of freight and passengers for the Fair at Henderson.

BORDER AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—The first annual Fair of the Border Agricultural Society comes off at Danville, Va., on the 5th., 6th., 7th., and 8th. of November next. The Association has fixed upon a large list of premiums, and, from the interest manifested, we judge it will be a decided success. The officers of the Association are as follows: Wm. T. Sutherlin, Danville, President; Wm. Long, of Caswell, N. C., Wm. D. Bethel, of Rockingham, N. C., Jno. W. Cunningham, of Person, N. C., T. H. Stamps, Pittsylvania, Va., Wm. Martin, Henrico, Va; T. E. Barksdale, Halifax, Va., and W. M. Kerr, Danville, Va., Vice-Presidents; A. Anderson, Danville, Treasurer; P. Bouldin, Recording Secretary, and T. P. Atkinson, Corresponding Secretary.

BT. BRIG. GEN. T. H. RUGER, formerly commanding the Department of North Carolina, is one of a Court Martial now in session at Vicksburg, Miss., for the trial of Gen. A. V. Kautz, 24th. Infantry.

RADICAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—A few members of this Committee, we learn, met in this City, on Saturday last. Many of the faithful could not be here, and others, not quite so faithful, did not care to be here. Mr. Goodloe declined to meet the Committee, which creating a vacancy, it was filled by the appointment of Dr. Grissom, of Granville. The Committee assumed to explain the platform and indicated opposition to confiscation, further disabilities, &c., but warned all, if and if, what rods were in pickle for them. So far as we can see, moderate Republicans and the Conservatives cannot take the back track, but must keep steadily forward to defeat the Radicals.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE.—We are glad to learn that this College has double the number of students it had last session. The Charlotte Democrat says that, under the administration of Dr. McPhail and the able Faculty, the institution is rapidly gaining public favor.

Y. M. C. A.—At a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this City, held on Monday evening, the following officers were elected, viz: President, Rev. W. S. Lacy; Vice Presidents, Messrs. W. J. Young and John Armstrong; Secretary, C. H. Hill; and Treasurer, J. A. Jones.

IT IS announced in the Register that Dr. J. T. Leach will address the citizens of Johnston County, in Smithfield, on next Saturday. It is understood that the Dr. goes with the moderate Republicans.

A dispatch from St. Louis states that the funeral of Gen. Price was an imposing affair. The hearse was drawn by six black horses, and is the same that was used in celebrating the obsequies of President Lincoln.

Four hundred ex-Confederate officers and soldiers participated in the procession. A daughter-in-law of the General was buried at the same time. His life was insured for $10,000. The remains were interred in Bellefountaine Cemetery. He leaves four sons and a daughter.

THE FIRST BALE FROM NORTHAMPTON COUNTY, N. C.—A bale of new cotton weighing 520 pounds, from Northampton county, N. C., grown by Mr. W. H. Wesson, has been consigned to Messrs. McIlwaine & Co. The "Old North State" seems determined to take a lead in the cotton trade this year. Let it come; quick sales and good prices will reward the planters who entrust their crop to our merchants. This is the first bale from old Northampton, and will be followed by thousands.—Pet. Express.

The Macon Telegraph says: "Gen. Pope has made a good thing for his radical organs in compelling public officers to advertise in them, and prescribing no limitation as to price. They have taken advantage of this omission, and piled on from 50 to 62½ per cent. on the customary rates of the country. We suppose there is no remedy for this imposition. It is necessary in order to support the radical newspapers in the South and the public interest is not to be considered.

The Farmville Record describes the first public effort of a negro orator at a radical meeting in Union parish. As soon as he had mounted the rostrum, the well conned sentences disappeared from his memory, and he gave utterance to a mere gibberish of unintelligible words. Finally, concentrating his thoughts, he burst out with, "We is free, and I'm glad of it—but 'taint like old times when massa paid the doctor and missus nussed us—it's root hog or die." Amid loud expressions of dissent from his audience, he fled in dismay.

A NEGRO WOMAN'S RIGHT OF DOWER.—An interesting and novel case was decided by Judge Sheffey at the recent term of our Circuit Court. Reuben Howard, a free negro, "acquired" his wife Milly, a slave, by purchase some years before the war. By his will, of date March 4, 1854, he emancipated his wife at his death. He died in 1863, and his estate is not sufficient to pay his debts if his wife is entitled to dower. This was the question in the case: "Is Milly Howard entitled to dower?"

Judge Sheffey decided that she is.—Lexington Gazette.

ABDUCTION OF A PROMISING BOY.—When Dan Castello's Circus was here last week some of his people enticed a youth named Edward C. Beazley to go off with them.—His mother is very much distressed at his absence, and has telegraphed to Salisbury and other points to procure his return to her. He is a very intelligent and promising boy, about fourteen years of age. A negro boy was also carried off by them.—Richmond Enquirer, 5th.

Senator Frelinghuysen, in a speech at Newark on Wednesday evening, in speaking of the public debt, said that this generation ought never to attempt to pay a dollar of the principal of it. The next generation will be larger in number and in wealth, and a burden that would break the back of one man can be borne easily by two.

THE CASE OF MR. BRADLEY.—It will be brought before the court in banc. It is ascertained that out of the four judges who will be on the bench at least three will sustain the action of Judge Fisher in suspending Mr. Bradley from practising in the criminal court.—Nat. Intel.

The court-martial of Assistant Engineer George F. Sawyer, United States Navy, for disrespect to and abuse of the President, was commenced at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on the 2d. Thirteen naval officers constitute the court-martial. Messrs. Butler, Cragin, and Hackett appear for the defence.—Nat. Intelligencer, 5th.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8, P. M.

The various House Committees are preparing work for the next session. The Election Committee meets at Lexington, Ky., on the 11th.—The Committee on Southern Railroads proceeds South from here on the 16th. The sub-Committee of the Judiciary Committee assembles at the Capitol, to-morrow, to investigate whether Maryland has a Republican Constitution.

The President has issued a proclamation correcting an error in the proclamation declaring the rebellion at an end. The error was a reference to a proclamation of the 30th. of June, 1865, instead of the 2nd day of April, 1866, as it should have been.

A Havana dispatch says a sure remedy for the yellow fever and black vomit is found in the juice of the female Verbena leaf.

BROWNLOW.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 8, P. M.

Brownlow's message recommends the repeal of the law disqualifying negroes from holding office and sitting on juries, and indulges in great bitterness against "rebels." He does not advise the extension of suffrage to the disfranchised whites.

Brownlow will probably be elected United States Senator.

SHERIDAN.

BOSTON, Oct. 8, P. M.

At a serenade to Sheridan, the crowd was so dense that fifty females fainted, (alliterative that!) One had her ribs broken, and others were more or less injured.

HEAVY STORM.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 8, M.

Accounts from the North and South of Cape Henry unite in characterizing the late storm as very severe. Hampton Roads are full of vessels.

MR. DAVIS' TRIAL.

RICHMOND, Oct. 8, P. M.

In view of the trial of Mr. Davis, double the number of petit jurors have been ordered to be summoned for the fall term of the Federal Court.

Hon. James Lyons was to-day furnished with a copy of the indictment against the accused.

Gen. Wallen, of Alexandria, it is understood, is engaged on the side of the Prosecution.

Prosecuting Attorney Chandler leaves to-day for New York, to consult with Mr. Evarts, who assists him.

BY THE CABLE.

The Revolutionists are invading Rome on all sides. The Garibaldians whipped the Papal troops near the Ambrosia frontier.

Prussia approves of Italy's appeal from the treaty stipulations requiring her to defend the integrity of the Papal dominions.

I AM NOW RECEIVING MY FALL AND WINter Stock of

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I can say, with safety, that I have one among the largest and most complete stocks that has ever been brought to this City, either before or since the war,—embracing almost any and everything suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear.

CALICOES, 10, 12½, 15, and 18 cents per yard.
FRENCH MERINOS, 75 cts. to $1,25 per yard.
DELAINES, POPLINS, and a great variety of other Dress Goods, embracing all the most novelties of the season, and will be sold cheap enough to insure sales.
BROWN DOMESTICS, 12½, 15 and 20 cts. per yard.
BLEACHED DOMESTICS, 12½, 15, 20 and 25 cts. per yard, and all other goods in proportion.
Also, the largest and most varied stock of CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATINETS,
TWEEDS,
AND KENTUCKY JEANS
I ever offered to the trade in this City, both as to price and quality.
Also a very fine assortment of White and Colored FLANNELS,
LADIES' CLOAKS,
BREAKFAST SHAWLS,
SQUARE AND LONG SHAWLS,
which will be sold at prices to suit my customers.
Ladies', Misses' and Children's TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS,—new styles, from 50 cents to $4,00 each.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Sons' make, and others of equally high standing.
Ladies' Pegged Balmorals, from $1 to $2.
Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1,50 to $2,50.
CREECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4,00. Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "back again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say that whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

A. CREECH'S,

DAILY SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1867.

[From the Louisville Journal.]

THE SPRING AT THE FOOT OF THE HILL.

There's a dear, sweet spot 'way down in the past,
To which my heart ever turns with a sigh,
And my tears fall fast as leaves in the blast,
When the winds of autumn are hurrying by.
'Tis the happy place where I drank my fill
And cooled my burning thirst with joy,
From the gushing spring at the foot of the hill
Where I drank when I was a boy.

In the old stone house standing high above,
With its honest front and its open door,
Dwelt the dearest friends of my boyhood's love
In the gay and the happy times of yore.
On their love and their friendship musing still,
I dream with sweet but saddened joy,
Of the gushing spring at the foot of the hill
Where I drank when I was a boy.

I look around me and the friends are gone,
Who played with me there in my boyhood's time,
And still through this world I am wandering on—
Now dreaming a dream and now muttering a rhyme.
But up through the mist of memory still,
Like music heard from the land of joy,
Comes the gushing spring at the foot of the hill,
Where I drank when I was a boy.

In the valley below, where the maple shade
Grows dark on the mound of her early grave,
Lies sleeping forever a gentle maid,
Who was lovely as God to earth o'er gave,
And the stream flows on in its music still
As it comes with a hymn of joy,
From the gushing spring at the foot of the hill,
Where I drank when I was a boy.

A HEAD'S COURTSHIP.

Araminta is my oyster. Cause why? I loved, she loved, we both loved; we couldn't help it. How could I help lovin' a girl of marriageable age and disposition, with auburn (New York) hair, red rose two lips, alabaster neck and lavender-colored kid gloves? And then such a chignon! I couldn't help it! I didn't! and she is now my step wife! It happened thusly:

We was schoolmates; we had been in the same class together, she at the head and I at the foot! We had sot in the same seat together, for the schoolmaster had made me sit with the girls to punish me! It was a dreadful punishment to make me sit with the girls in my young days. It is now!

I used to pinch her; she used to say "don't." But she didn't mean it! At last I got so as to squeeze her hand. She said "don't" some more. She didn't mean that, either. Then I used to give her apples and she would give me some of her gingerbread, and we used to go along to and from school together, swinging our hands, each in the other's, clasped together like you see 'em on the odd fellers' banners and the tin signs on the houses that is insured.

Things went on so until she left off wearin' pantalets and put on long close, and I put on trowsers as buttoned up before instead of behind! Then I began to write verses, of which these is some:

Oh, Araminta, Araminta,
Your heart is harder than a flint-ar;
If you don't love your friend A. Head,
You'll be right sorry when he is dead!

These and other poems, I could see, "had the desired effect," as the doctors say of their physic. They ought too. I don't know who could stand many of 'em.

Time flew on. It always does. It has been flying on for six thousand years more or less. It will probably continue to fly, whether the Republican party is in session or not. Araminta went to keepin' school, and I went to be a "devil" in a printin' office, and succeeded in what I went for.

We writ to each other words of burnin' love, so burnin' that they almost scorched a hole through the paper. But the day of trouble came. It always does. Araminta's ole man, who was a soap-boiler, besides having an interest in a tan-yard, got a contract to furnish the army with horse-beef, and made a "pile." He then took Araminta home and bought her a big chignon, which I have spoken of before. From that day Araminta begun to feel hairistocratic, and from that day the ole man "forbid me his door." But I didn't want his door, I only wanted the girl! I tried whistling under the window, and the ole man tried hot ashes on my head. Neither of them work well. I had one resource left. I advertized in the "personals" of the New York Herald as follows, to wit, viz:

"My Dear Mint—I still hang out. Come to the bower I've shaded for you, and you will hear something to your advantage. I shall be at the 'Black Crook,' and have on patent-leather boots to morrow night.

"To be continued in the N. York Ledger.

"Your devoted HEAD."

Araminta came, she sighed, she conquered! I went and bot some peanuts and we wandered by the sea beet shore and shelled 'em together. I sung to her "Let me kiss you for your mother," and she answered in the song, "If a body kiss a body need a body cry?"

I said, "To be certingly not."

She didn't cry!

We sealed our vows then and there, and I stamped the seal! The ole man found it out and he stamped me!

* * * * * * *

Months rolled around and I rolled round with the months. The ole man deposited his spondulix in a peahunsel bank.

The peahunsel bank bust!

The ole man went up and Araminta's chignon went down!

One day I struck ile and was rich. I went to Araminta's ole man's back yard and threw my wealth at his feet.

"Can this be thee and these greenbacks thine?" he cried.

"It can—it are!"

"Then come to my arms; you are my long lost son-in-law!" he exclaimed, as the tears ran down his cheeks like whisky down the throat of a member of Congress.

Araminta heard my german silvery voice and she come flying on the wings of love, with a nice embroidered lace collar on. I clasped her to my bosom.

"O, dearest, I have you!"

"I have, my Mint, I have."

"Then take me to your arms, but don't muss my collar."

But little remains to be told. I let the ole man have enough ile to set up the soap business again on his daughter's account, and Araminta and me went to live in a 7 story house with Venetian blinds and all the modern improvements.

There is no "angel in the house" yet, but there's no tellin' how soon there will be!

Highmentally, A. H.

It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.

The following letter from Col. Hoon, of Surry County, speaks for itself:

"It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin Horse Power bought last season proved an entire success.

I applied a 13 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which improved on constant work, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 1,000 per day.

The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 2 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the State, who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old powers and order this pattern of you.

Yours, most respectfully, WM. H. HOOD."

NORTH CAROLINA

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

Its OWN SEAPORT and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $295,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty-two Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington.

Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling, and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

GREAT THROUGH LINE

Route to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

Cars run through to all points without breaking bulk.

Notice to Shippers of Freight.

THE SEABOARD INLAND AIR LINE

Via Portsmouth, Va.,

IS THE ONLY DIRECT LINE BETWEEN Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and the Carolinas.

It is express in point of speed and safety of Freights, being from

FORTY TO SEVENTY HOURS

in advance of all other lines, and at as low rates.

It offers daily communication with Baltimore, daily communication with Philadelphia.

Five Steamers each week to and from New York.

Two Steamers each week to and from Boston.

It is the only line having these advantages, and by which there is but one handling of freight.

Cars are loaded at the Wharves in Portsmouth and are run through to destination.

Be careful to direct your Consignors to ship only

From Baltimore, by the Norfolk or Bay Line Steamers, foot of Union Dock.

From Philadelphia by the Annatocsic Line, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Depot, or by Clyde's Line, 14 South Delaware Avenue.

From New York by the Old Dominion Steamship Line, Pier 37 North River.

From Boston, by the Norfolk Steamship Line, end of Central Wharf.

All loss s, damages, or overcharges promptly adjusted on application to

JAS. McCARRICK,
Trace Agent, Portsmouth, Va.

Have your freight marked Via Portsmouth, Va., and in shipping to Philadelphia, marked Via Clyde's Line, or Via Annamessic.

The Thirtieth Annual Course of Instruction in this Institution will begin November 11th and end in the following March. Preliminary lectures will be given daily in the Charity Hospital, commencing October 15th, at which time also the new and extensive rooms for Practical Anatomy will be opened. Fees for all the Lectures, $140; Matriculation, (paid but once) $5; Practical Anatomy, $10.—Payment required in advance.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press at work at Mr. P. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.

W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.

THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw. I would pay the price of a Press rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.

D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.

J. H. CURRY,
Sup't W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half, at first, and lasting twice as long as a Screw.

PETER E. SMITH,

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr. Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit.

RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER-POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baling.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

I think I can sell County rights at about $10 by the hundred.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any state, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution therein under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not provided otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine

IS OFFERED TO THE

Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; "a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause, You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.
